

Government of Estonia

Former President Kersti Kaljulaid

Prime Minister Kaja Kallas

President Kaljulaid swearing in duly elected Prime Minister Kallas on January 26th, 2021

- According to the Constitution of Estonia, the President is the head of state but has no executive powers. The Prime Minister is appointed by the President and is the head of government.
- The other three countries with a female head of state and head of government are New Zealand, Denmark, and Barbados all with a queen and a female prime minister according to Invest in Estonia.